PAC RAC Storage Systems

The PAC RAC system of storage helps to organize the many items needed for patient care. PAC RACs are convenient and save time by reducing clutter and managing the work area.

PAC RACs are sturdy steel construction and powder coated to prevent rusting. The open basket styling of these racks resist the collection of dust and debris, an important feature for hospital applications. All PAC RACs are an attractive almond color and are offered in a wide variety of shapes and sizes to fill most any requirement.

PAC RAC Storage Systems

A common problem found in hospitals – where Peace Medical PAC RACs offer the solution

◀ Urinals and bedpans often wind up on patient eating surfaces creating unsanitary conditions.

◀ Using the PAC RAC 1054 basket with clamp system, the bedpan and/or urinal is conveniently stored off the eating surface within easy patient reach.

PAC RAC Storage Systems

Clamp Systems

Pole Clamp

The PAC RAC Pole Clamping system is easy to attach by placing basket at desired height and tightening thumbscrews. No tools are required. Clamp adjusts to fit 1/2 inch to 3 inch diameter poles and is available with all PAC RACs.

PAC RAC No. 1042 Basket with pole clamp is shown attached to an IV pole allowing patients to carry personal items while walking.

Square Clamp

The Square Clamp system allows easy fastening of baskets to square or rectangular shaped poles from 1 1/2 inches to 3 1/2 inches in width. Clamps can be attached to most PAC RACs.

PAC RAC Magnets

Magnet mounted PAC RACs provide sturdy, secure attachment to metal surfaces yet allow quick removal and relocation.

Dramatically increase the storage capacity of metal carts using PAC RAC Magnets

A typical magnet attached PAC RAC on one side of this cart is the 1090 Universal Precaution Combo Basket.

Another great place to add storage is on the sides of file cabinets, two 1063 File/Binder Holders are shown here.

PAC RAC Magnets Catalog #1071M

Magnets are factory attached and are available for use on most PAC RACs. Consult factory (Racs will require two to four magnets depending on size). Call for pricing

Clamp and Magnet systems are available factory-installed on most PAC RACs

PAC RAC Storage Systems

Typical Uses

Bed Organization

Use the PAC RAC system on a bed and keep personal belongings and necessary care items within patient reach, thus reducing the number of patient nurse calls. The easy-on, easy-off design allows fast removal or repositioning should emergency situations arise.

Finally a place to put the nurse call/TV remote and phone together! The 1065 Combination Nurse Call/TV Remote and Phone Holder (pg. 4) fits on all bed rails, head and footboards. No more wrapping wires around bed rails to prevent units from falling to floor or having them ripped from wall during emergency bed movement.

The 1043 Bed Pan Holder (pg. 3) conveniently attaches to the footboard of a patient bed.

Attached to a bed footboard is the 1063 File/Binder Holder (pg. 9) where patient records can be kept close by.

Attached to the bed side rail is the 1089 Urinal/Bottle Holder (pg. 4) showing another possible placement for a PAC RAC.

The 1060 Whopper Junior (pg. 7) is shown attached to the bed headboard. This large basket is great for holding extra bed linens or personal belongings within patient's reach.

General Purpose

Individual patient healthcare requires the use of a large number of products, equipment and supplies. The PAC RAC system provides a simple storage solution throughout your facility.

Three No. 1044 Multiple Binder Holders (pg. 9) are mounted side by side on a wall. This design creates a central, secure location for patient records. Binders store horizontally at eye level for fast, easy retrieval – no more bending over and straining neck to locate patient files.

A typical PAC RAC bathroom installation shows a Bed Pan Combo Basket (1054, pg. 3), Double Glove Box Holder (1050, pg. 2) and two Uri Hat Holders (1053, pg. 3).

Outside patient rooms, File/Binder Holders (1063, pg. 9) are attached to doors with a Multiple Glove Box Holder (1050, pg. 2) on the wall between.
